Because so many popular beliefs are inaccurate!

Article Reveals Inaccurate Information on Pharmaceutical Labels
by Joel Harrison 11. December 2011

A recent article published in Men’s Health reveals that some of the information that can be found on the labels of pharmaceutical products is not completely accurate.

Activity based usage throughout the year